

The gate is wide
The road is paved in moderation
The crowd is kind and quick to pull you in Welcome to the middle ground
You're safe and sound and Until now it's where I've been

'Cause it's been fear that ties me down to everything
But it's been love, Your love, that cuts the strings

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

So long status quo
I think I just let go
You make me want to be brave
The way it always was
Is no longer good enough
You make me want to be brave
Brave, brave

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

I am small
And I speak when I'm spoken to
But I am willing to risk it all
I say Your name
Just Your name and I'm ready to jump
Even ready to fall...

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

Why did I take this vow of compromise?
Why did I try to keep it all inside?

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

So long status quo
I think I just let go
You make me want to be brave
The way it always was
Is no longer good enough
You make me want to be brave
Brave, brave

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

I've never known a fire that didn't begin with a flame
Every storm will start with just a drop of rain
But if you believe in me
That changes everything
So long, I'm gone

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

So long status quo
I think I just let go
You make me want to be brave
I want to be brave
The way it always was
Is no longer good enough
You make me want to be brave
Brave, brave, brave
