

I need a little more sunshine in the middle of rain Need a little more joy in the middle of pain Need a little more color in the middle of this plain jane I've looked as deep as I can see
And I think I need a little more of You in the middle of me

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

I need a little more patience in the middle of stress I need a little more beauty in the middle of this mess Need a little more substance in the middle of this emptiness I've looked as deep as I can see
in the middle of me

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

Need more of You and less of me
More of You and little less insanity More of You and little less complexity
I've looked as deep as I can see
It seems more of You is better for me

Music is by permission of CCLI #818428

I need a little more rhythm in the middle of this lazy rhyme Need a little more spontaneity in the middle of this daily grind Need a little more truth not music in this world of lies I've looked as deep as I can see
And I think I need a little more You in the middle of me
